

The adjournment of the Legislature is now fixed at dates varying from the 1st to the 10th of April.

Cabinet-dealers are becoming discouraged because General Garfield takes no notice of their kindness in making cabinets for him. They have seen enough to give them to understand that they may as well take a "lucid interval."

Mr. Updegraff, member of Congress from Iowa, made a remark in the House when the river and harbor grab was under consideration, that "there must be some place between the Atlantic ocean and a dew drop where the line should be drawn," on appropriations for improvements. But Congress, it seems, does not want to draw any line.

In the Atlantic Monthly for March, H. D. Lloyd tells the "Story of a Great Monopoly," it being none other than the Standard Oil Company. The facts and figures marshaled by him are startling in the extreme. The article should be read by every legislator and thinking man. It deals with a subject-matter which is one of the most serious problems of our age. Its article on "New York Theatres" pays a deserved tribute to the genius of John McCullough. Of his rendition of "Hamlet" the writer says: "It is indeed an original and powerful conception of the part. * * * There is not a line of the play which he utters which does not make instinct with meaning; not a line which he does not manage to accompany with some action that throws a light upon the situation. The result is that he produces almost a new play."

The number as a whole is a very creditable one, and will richly repay the reader.

There does not appear to be any sentiment in the State against State Treasurer Guenther holding his present office and at the same time being a member of the Forty-seventh Congress. At first it was supposed he would resign the treasurer's office, but after advising with the best constitutional lawyers in the State, he has decided to retain that office. It is true he will draw two salaries at the same time till the last day of next December—$5,000 a year as Congressman, and as much more as State treasurer—but there is no law against his enjoying this fortunate circumstance, and hence he will finish his term as State treasurer. The Milwaukee Sentinel in discussing the matter recently, said:

He (Guenther) said that his friends advised him not to resign, as it would necessitate a special election, which cost the State at least $30,000. There was no more impropriety in his holding his present office, than engaging in some private business, which he would be compelled to do if he resigned. The other Congressmen in the State pursued their usual avocations when home, and why should he not retain his present position? Even after qualifying as a Congressman he might hold the office of State Treasurer for the reason mentioned, as there was nothing in the constitution of the State or the United States forbidding it. The people of the commonwealth would in no wise be the gainer through the proposed action on his part, and it would only create an unnecessary disturbance in the politics of the State.

THE REPORT OF THE BOARD OF CHARITIES.

The tenth annual report of the State board of charities and reform is just published. It is a volume of nearly 350 pages and contains a great many facts, suggestions and statistics that are of special importance. We notice there is a marked difference in the report of the board regarding the jails, from that made last year. The Racine jail which had become notoriously bad on account of its filthy condition, poor ventilation, and so on, is much improved, though a new jail is needed. According to the notes of visits to the jails of the State, the one which stands the lowest in all respects is that at Kenosha. When we consider that Kenosha county is regarded as an intelligent one, and that there is no county indebtedness, it is difficult to understand why the county is disgraced with its present jail. There does not seem to be a single redeeming feature about the jail. It is small, insecure, extremely unhealthy, and can not be kept clean. The Sheriff is compelled to live two years in a "dark, damp cellar with two women in the most violently insane, and separated by only the thickness of a single door from the jail which contains insane men, idiots, criminals, accused persons, and a constant stream of dirty tramps, more in number than in any other county in the State."

The cost of prisoners' board is given for all the counties in the State, and we notice that the cost per week is lower in Rock county than in any other county in Wisconsin. In Rock the price is $2.50, while in other counties the cost runs from $3.00 to $7.00, the counties paying $7.00 per week for prisoners' board being Marathon, Taylor, and Wood; while Douglas, St. Croix, and Vernon pay $5.00.

The total number of persons committed to jail during the year 1880 was 1,506, and of this number only 268 were females; and the number in jail on the first of October, 1880, was 209, only eleven of whom were women.

There are many interesting facts and much profitable information given in the report, and we hope the distribution of the report will be liberally and wisely made.

HOWE AND THE CABINET.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The Wisconsin delegation in Congress, including Senator Matt Carpenter, has been a great deal excited at the reported visit of Senator-elect Sawyer to Mentor, and of his recommendation of Judge Howe for a cabinet position. It is ascertained, after polling the delegation, that a great majority, perhaps all, oppose the appointment of Judge Howe, and are irritated that Senator-elect Sawyer should have taken this course without consulting some members of the delegation. One of them, speaking very bitterly of this visit to-night, says that if General Garfield shall select Judge Howe, he will have stopped at the wrong political grave.

ANOTHER DISPATCH.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—It is not believed that young Bob Lincoln will go into the cabinet, nor Howe, of Wisconsin. Lincoln is now in the city. His presence here to some is significant, but his visit is solely on law business. The story that Howe is going into the cabinet originated with Senator-elect Philatus Sawyer, of Wisconsin. Sawyer was under obligations to Howe for his Senatorial election. After it was over, Howe got him to go to Mentor and urge his claims. Of course Garfield treated him with consideration, and Sawyer rushed back to Wisconsin saying the matter was fixed. He dropped these observations also in the ears of several watchful newspaper correspondents, and in this way the story got out that old Senator Howe was going into the cabinet.

TREASURER GILFILLAN.

His Opinion of the Funding Bill—The Banks Too Hasty.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Treasurer Gilfillan was asked by your correspondent to-day what he thought about the success of the funding bill. Said he, "I think that there was no use in making such an experiment as this bill involves. It might better be made with a 3½ per cent. bond." "Do you think it will fail?" was asked. "I do not know, but if it does fail it will be a great detriment and work a vast injury to our credit." "How do you regard the opposition of the banks?" "I think the banks too hasty in withdrawing their circulation. The fact is, though, that they risk nothing by it, though they may embarrass the government. If it suits them they can come right back again next week or to-morrow and increase their circulation again. In the meantime, the government has to stand the expense and trouble of this increase and decrease at their will. I do not think this outcry that they cannot afford to do business on a 3 per cent bond has a good foundation, because at present a 4 per cent bond only yields about 3.10-100 per cent interest, and no one will believe this 10-100 difference can make or break them in one way or the other. To-morrow is a holiday, and this will give them time to think the matter over, and it may be that they will conclude to stop this excitement that has been going on Saturday and to-day."

MYSTERIOUS DROWNING.

The Body of Charles F. Blake Found in North River.

New York, February 21.—The body of Charles F. Blake, the well-known patent lawyer of No. 3 West Thirty-fifth street, was found in the North river, at the foot of West Fortieth street, this forenoon. He had been drowned in the night. The manner of his death is a mystery which the police apparently have been unable to solve. Mr. Blake was not robbed, and his body bore no marks of violence. He was happy in his domestic life and successful in business, and the motive for suicide is lacking. The theory of an accident is declared even more untenable by the police, who, however, will give no information, if they have any. Mr. Blake was a brother-in-law of the Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix.

FIVE SUICIDES.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—Five cases of suicide have been reported in this city since Saturday, and it would seem as though the mania were becoming epidemic. At 6 o'clock this evening Frank Javours, of 72 Cleaver street, went to an outhouse in the rear of his home and hung himself with a strap which he was accustomed to wear about his body. Too many libations during the past week are assigned as the cause of it, and it is supposed that he was intoxicated at the time. Javours was a Bohemian about 40 years of age, and leaves a wife and three children in very poor circumstances.

PORK IMPORTATION.

The Decree of the French Government Against American Pork.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—A dispatch from Paris states that the importation of pork is forbidden because of the prevalence of trichinosis, and the impossibility of examining cargoes at the ports of landing. In view, however, of the considerable consumption of pork by the lower classes, the French government will try to devise less stringent but a sufficiently protective method.

New York, Feb. 21.—Secretary Grant, of the New York Produce Exchange, said to-day that the French authorities were evidently determined to all in their power to injure the trade in American pork. Exaggerated reports in regard to diseased meat had been circulated in France. A representative of Fowler Brothers, on the Exchange to-day, remarked, "I had this morning a cable message from Paris giving the welcome information of the probability that the decree against the introduction of American pork would be modified. I have no doubt several American dealers have been shipping diseased meat to France. For several months past there has been a great demand for pork in the French market, and certain shippers in the United States have not been over and above careful about the quality of meat sent abroad. On account of the carelessness of a few exporters the business interests of many are made to suffer. It is sometimes very difficult to detect diseased meat. A powerful microscope and good judgment is necessary in all instances. The action of the French Government is a severe blow to the trade. New shipments of American pork have entirely ceased, but there are vessels upon the ocean a large number of vessels laden with meat which will reach the French ports in a week or so."

A JUST JUDGE.

ATLANTA, Ga., February 21.—The members of Fanny May's female minstrel company, who were arrested at the Opera house in this city Saturday night, charged with using vulgar language and singing indecent songs, were brought before the police court this morning, and the charge sustained. The judge of the court dismissed the charges against the members of the company, and imposed a fine of $100 on Fanny May, the proprietress, which was promptly paid.

A Singular Suicide.

[From the London Telegraph.]
Among the curiosities of suicidal annals the recent proceedings of one J. Treichel, a merchant who put an end to his existence a few days ago at Argentan, will in all probability obtain rank as by no means the least extraordinary freak hitherto performed by eccentric self-slayers. Treichel, it appears, lived over against a church-yard, and the constant contemplation of that melancholy enclosure may possibly not only have caused him to grow weary of life, but inspired him with the dismal notion of preparing his grave with his own hands before qualifying for its occupancy. Sealing the church-yard wall one evening, he dug a hole in the earth seven feet deep, fixed his spade firmly across the top of this cavity, and hanged himself to a strong cord, one end of which he attached to the shaft of the spade.

He had, some days before he carried this novel method of suicide into execution, mentioned it, apparently in jest, to his wife and one or two acquaintances. As, on the night in question, he failed to return home from work, Mrs. Treichel suspected that mischief had appeared to her a mere pleasanter on her husband's part might prove to be grim earnest. She, therefore, sat up all night awaiting his advent in vain, and at dawn of day gazed eagerly from her window upon the church-yard, where her eye, familiar with the aspect of the burying-ground, instant detected a huge heap of freshly thrown up earth in one of its corners. She immediately rushed to the gate-keeper, and with him hurried to the spot which had attracted her attention. There she found her husband, cold and stiff, hanging to his spade in the newly-dug grave, which must have cost him several hours of severe and unrelenting toil.

MILTON.

—There is some discussion here in regard to the advisability of organizing a joint stock company to build a tobacco warehouse in this village. That a warehouse of that kind is needed here no one doubts and if private individuals will not build it a company should be organized to do so. Every tobacco grower who raises twenty cases of tobacco can afford to take twenty-five dollars worth of stock in the enterprise, and those who grow more stock in proportion, while every business man and real estate owner is interested and would be benefited and therefore should not hesitate to take stock. A first class building for the purpose could be erected for about $700, and the rents would pay ten to twenty per cent on the investment. A meeting should be called and the subject presented at once. There is no reason why tobacco growers in this vicinity should be obliged to haul their tobacco to Janesville or Edgerton to find a market and a warehouse here would do away with all that. Freighters are as low from here as from the former city, and much less than from the latter point. We are prepared to take $25 worth of stock in such a building, and we know others who will do as much or more. Talk it up, call a meeting and the warehouse will be built on a solid foundation instead of on paper. Now is the time. Labor is plenty and material cheap as compared with former years.
